Hood Foundation

Child Health Research

Program: The Charles H. Hood Foundation, a New England based entity, was incorporated in 1942 for the support of child health research. Its emphasis is on the initiation and furtherance of medical research that will help to diminish health problems affecting large numbers of children. The intent of the award is to support initial independent investigations, provide the opportunity to demonstrate creativity, and assist in the transition to other sources of research funding.

Funds: Maximum grant award: $75,000 per year.

Deadline: April 24, 2002.

Eligible: Funding is limited to research undertaken by independent junior faculty in medically oriented tax-exempt institutions in the six New England states (Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut). The Foundation is particularly interested in supporting junior faculty in departments that care for children including, but not limited to, pediatrics, pediatric surgery, pediatric medical and surgical subspecialties, and perinatal obstetrics. The Foundation's emphasis is on research affecting the health of children. Both clinical and basic science applications must be hypothesis-driven research pertaining to child health..

HIV/AIDS

Massachusetts Department of Public Health

RFI Refugee and Asylee Support Services

Program: The Department of Public Health, Refugee and Immigrant Health Program (RIHP) is seeking a health care provider in Boston with expertise in serving newly arrived refugees and asylees who are HIV-positive as a partner in its application to the federal Office of Refugee Resettlement in accordance with the standing announcement. Information on the announcement is available at www.acf.dhhs.gov/programs/orr/01-recentstanding.htm. This application will seek 17-month funding to respond to the needs of HIV-positive refugees and asylees. Services that are sought will complement those provided by resettlement agencies and respond to refugees' needs related to HIV and histories of trauma. A separate bid announcement seeks to identify resettlement agency partners for this project.

The overall goal of this project is to improve the capacity of both resettlement partners and mainstream HIV/AIDS providers to meet the particular needs of newly arrived refugees and asylees who infected with or affected by HIV. This will be accomplished, first, by increasing knowledge, skills and linkages among resettlement and HIV/AIDS providers and, second, by enhancing HIV support services to assure that refugees receive appropriate services.

Deadline: February 20, 2002.

Funds: TBD

Eligible: See above.

West Roxbury District Court

The Diane Halperin Memorial Award

- Program: "On September 15, 2000, we mourned the untimely death of Diane Halperin. Her passing created an empty space to those who learned so much from her life's work. Her legacy includes the design, development and sitting of the first Drug Diversion Court, start-up of the Health Boston initiative, and invaluable leadership for the West Roxbury District Court's Reinventing Justice project. Beyond her more formal accomplishments, her earthy humor, infectious enthusiasm, and her ability to inspire others has been greatly missed. The Diane Halperin Memorial Award Committee has established an annual award in her memory."
- Deadline: Nominations are due by March 29, 2002.
- Funds: The award will be presented at the West Roxbury District Court's Law Day Celebration on Friday, May 3rd and will include an honorarium.
- Eligible: Applicants may include individuals as well as groups, agencies or organizations. The criteria for the award will include:
- ✓ A person whose volunteer contribution and courage of conviction have in a significant and substantial way enriched the community serviced by the West Roxbury District Court.
 - ✓ A person who encourages different viewpoints and treats people with the utmost of respect.
 - ✓ Someone who has identified the need for change and has found and implemented innovative solutions.
 - ✓ The recipient would possess an innovative spirit and be someone who recognizes how essential neighborhoods are to the vitality and stability of our city.
- Info: Patricia McHale, Judges' Lobby at West Roxbury District Court, Phone: 617-971-1309.

Public and Nonprofit Management Club/Boston University School of Management

BU MBA Link Day

- Program: Link Day is a one-day workshop (April 19th) which provides managerial expertise free of charge. The one-day workshop brings together nonprofits, MBA students, academics, and local professionals to analyze specific problems facing organizations and provide practical strategic solutions.
- Deadline: March 1, 2002.
- Funds: See above.
- Eligible: Nonprofits.
- Info: Miriam Abramson, Phone: 617.731.2673, Email: miriama@bu.edu,
